JOKE OF THE MONTH

One Sunday morning while church was in session, the Devil came roaring in, breathing fire and making horrible screeching noises.
The entire congregation went stampeding out with the exception of one man. The Devil went directly to the man and whirled fire and screamed horribly in front of him. The man didn't seem to mind or respond. The Devil said "What's the matter with you? Don't I scare you?" The man said "Heck no! I was married to your sister for 20 years!"
